FENIX could be perfect fit for contemporary design, especially for a modern, innovative, hi-tech smart living home like service apartment for the younger generation, middle class, and professionals.

WHY FENIX IS FENIX?

Created with proprietary technologies, the external surface of FENIX is characterised by the use of next generation acrylic resins, hardened, and fixed through an Electron Beam Curing process. This makes you experience unique features. At first glance, the surfaces strike for their super-matt appearance. By touching them, you feel how pleasantly soft they are, with the further surprise of leaving no fingerprints. Thermal healing of superficial micro-scratches is also possible.
